Our services

TO INVESTORS

We discover the finest offers that are not easily available to the public. Our diverse and strategic approach exemplifies our continuous dedication to innovation, ensuring our clients receive an exceptional investment experience.

WHY CRYPTOCURRENCY

Cryptocurrency's widespread acceptance by institutions and its availability to the general public give it a leading position compared to other types of assets. Cryptocurrency traders often have one of two goals: to accumulate Bitcoin or make a profit in USD. In a crypto bull market, it's pretty easy for your portfolio to increase in USD value, but it's more challenging for your Bitcoin value to increase.

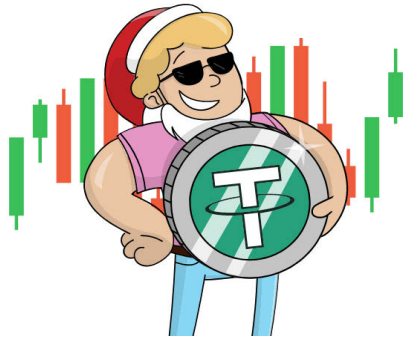

CAPITAL MARKET AND DEPT CAPITAL MARKET

Although our main focus is on emerging markets, we provide global coverage that includes established markets as well. We primarily deal with rated, senior secured or senior unsecured borrowings, which enable qualified borrowers to access the global capital markets, issue listed debt, and expand their investor base significantly. Additionally, when possible, we create project bonds. TPT initiates transactions on behalf of a group of major global banks, who then structure, underwrite, and carry out bond transactions for borrowers. We also specialize in working with Islamic/Sukuk bond markets in a customized manner.

Furthermore, TPT collaborates with fixed income investors from the US and EU, such as pension funds, asset managers, institutional investors, and corporate treasuries. We ensure these investors receive guaranteed allocation in our bond transactions due to the high yield and secure nature of the issuances.

Tether Pocket Trades platform offers a comprehensive solution to investors, family offices, and new fund managers, allowing them to streamline their operations. This includes providing licensing and fund infrastructure, facilitating capital introductions, offering a centralized trading platform, and prime brokerage services. By taking care of these aspects, our clients can focus on their core strengths, such as managing money and making investments.

Financial planning involves the process of identifying financial goals and creating a strategic plan to achieve them. Investment planning is a crucial part of financial planning, where we determine specific goals and objectives. We then assess the available funds and match them with the identified goals. Based on the available funds, we can invest in various vehicles, such as stocks, gold, bonds, government schemes, etc., to meet our goals and objectives. Proper investment planning is essential to secure our financial future and enhance our overall financial well-being.

Planning Retirement

Retirement planning has become an enigma for numerous individuals in the present era. In the past, workers could depend on pensions provided by their employers, but nowadays, many individuals will have to rely on their own savings from work and personal finances, in addition to Social Security benefits. The challenge lies in ensuring that these savings can sustain them for a longer duration, as people are now living longer lives, frequently reaching their eighties and nineties. Our aim is to offer you expert guidance encompassing all the factors crucial for a successful retirement, which include saving and investing, planning, maintaining good health, and identifying suitable activities and work options.
